When they are written in a foreign language other than Spanish, English or French, the respective translation must be delivered, carried out in accordance with the provisions of the notarial law.

5. Presentation of the Application

Applications can be submitted in person or online, by filling in form - <http://inqueritos.porto.ucp.pt/site/index.php/678659/lang-en>. The application can include a maximum of three Master's Programmes simultaneously, indicating the order of preference of each one by the candidate.

Submitting the application online presupposes the presentation of the original documents up to the date of enrolment.

6. Applications assessment, ranking criteria and publication of the results

The selection and ranking of the candidates will be carried out, in each Master Programme, by a jury composed by the Master's Coordinator, the Associate Dean for the Master's Programmes of Católica Porto Business School and a professor of the scientific area. The criteria considered are as follows:

Criteria	Weight
Undergraduate Degree Average	48%
Adequacy of the previous degree	52%

CPBS reserves the right to set a minimum application score for each phase, depending on the quality of the candidate's results.

The jury may increase the candidate's evaluation, taking into account the professional or research experience and / or the Overall Assessment of the Candidate (academic and scientific curriculum / CV Analysis / Other degrees / GMAT / Interview if necessary). The interview (If necessary) has the objective to understand the motivations of the applicant to attend the master's degree, as well as clarifying complementary elements to the curricular evaluation. When an interview is scheduled, the non-appearance of the applicant determines his/hers elimination.

The analysis of the applications is made considering the first option of the candidate. Only in situations where the candidate is not admitted in the 1st option, the application will be re-analysed, considering the option that follows, on an equal basis with the other candidates.

The list, with the results of each stage is posted on the website: <http://www.catolicabs.porto.ucp.pt/pt/mestrados-apresentacao>.

Results are expressed as follows:

"Admitted" (Indicating the Master programme to which the applicant is being admitted)

"Admitted Conditionally", Admission is dependent on one or more of the following requirements:

- Interview to assess the English skills
- Conclusion of the undergraduate degree with a minimum GPA
- Frequency and approval of the homogenisation modules

"Next Round" (Application will be assessed in the next call on equal terms with new applicants)

"Not Admitted" – Result applicable to the Master Programme/ academic year. The candidate may apply in the following calls if some evaluation element is added to the application process.

7. Functioning of the Master Programmes

All our Master Programmes includes a period of study corresponding to 60 credit units (ECTS) and a period of completion of the Master's Final Work (MFW), corresponding to 36 credit units, except for the Master Programme in Human Resource Management, whose MFW corresponds to 60 units of credit.

The MFW translates into an assignment of scientific nature that can be developed in an academic context, in a business context or in a mixed context.

All Master's Programmes, except Human Resource Management, include Research Seminars I and II that do not correspond to ECTS but to which students must obtain approval for enrolment in MFW.

Classes take place on the premises of the Universidade Católica Portuguesa – Centro Regional do Porto - Foz campus, Monday to Friday, from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. and Saturdays, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

The Master in Business Economics only has classes during daytime, Monday to Friday, from 09h00 to 18h30 and on Saturdays from 09h00 to 13h00.

The Master in Management, during the first semester, offers the possibility of attending both in daytime or post-work hours. During the second semester, only the generic area offers both daytime and post-work hours classes.

In the specialization areas of Business Analytics and Service Management, classes only take place during daytime and in the specialization area of Management Control classes only take place in post-work hours.

Language of Instruction

English: Business Economics; Finance; Marketing; Management.

Portuguese (Some of the subjects may be taught in English): Auditing and Taxation, Management and Human Resources Management.

The Master in Management is taught in both languages during the first semester. In the second semester, only the generic area is taught in both languages.

The specializations areas of Business Analytics and Service Management are taught only in English and the specialization area of Management Control is taught only in Portuguese.
